CORNELL & DENNIS

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 12, 1852.

There is serious trouble in the loco-foco camp in this state; the wisemen are assembled in council in Providence, for the good of the dear people, and they are striving to pour oil upon the troubled waters, and to allay all discussions which exist; but this is no easy matter. Gov. Allen has a few opinions of his own, which he most tenaciously adheres to, and will not relinquish; he talks out boldly and plainly, and the party dare not oppose him, because he furnishes a very material part of the show of war, and possesses considerable personal strength, through those in his employ, &c. Now Uncle Philip, as they call him in Providence, is not to be pushed out of the way, neither are his opinions to be frowned out of sight. The party ought to have been aware that it was their duty to allow him to have his own way, because the loco-foco leader in the House of Representatives, George H. Brown, Esq., a nice young man, and possessing more prudence and discretion than is usually assigned to one of his years, candidly and frankly told the world, some months ago, in his famous Donaldson letter, that Gov. Allen was a very obstinate man. Now, who ought to know this fact better than Mr. Brown, an acknowledged leader in the party? Why did not the party listen to him? Why did they not act upon his candid assertion? He told them as much as that Gov. Allen would have his own way, and that it would be useless to oppose him.

The loco-focos are trying to agree on a ticket for the coming year; they are anxious to nominate Gov. Allen again, because they want his influence, and, above all, they want his money—they know that he freely spent it last year, and Mr. Brown says that he is very liberal in such matters. But Gov. Allen, we learn from good authority, imposes two conditions to his acceptance of the nomination; what these terms are, has not yet leaked out of the cabinet counsel. We do not profess to be a prophet, still, we are quite willing to stake our Yankeeism on the matter, and assert as our firm belief that they are these—first, that our Gov. Lawrence shall not be run on the ticket, for any office—and second, that if the loco-focos should nominate Gov. Allen, he shall be made U. S. Senator. Gov. Allen's aversion to Gov. Lawrence has become a matter of public notoriety, and he has not hesitated, for some time past, to speak out, in very plain and somewhat blunt terms, his opinion of his political brother. It is also well known that Gov. Allen is very desirous to go to the Senate. Then our Governor Lawrence is more than anxious and alarmingly ambitious for the same distinguished honor. Gen. Carpenter thinks that he has a claim, because he suffered during Dorr times, and was even put in Prison for his political opinions. Mr. Sayles also aspires to the Senate, and he thinks that he is deserving, because he was a persecuted man in 1842, when those 17 millions of upturned eyes were fixed anxiously upon him as he presided in the famous Foundry Legislature. Thus our readers will perceive what serious troubles embarrass our opponents. We speak in this matter because we feel deeply interested; we are anxious concerning the fate of our friend Gov. Lawrence. We have his interest near to our own heart, and we are afraid that justice will not be done him. A short time ago, we consigned him, as a rare and delicate exotic plant, to our friend of the Providence Journal, and implored him to nurse our treasure with jealous care—but that cold-hearted, ungrateful Algerine had the unkindness to say that, politically speaking, there was nothing left of our pet Governor to take care of. The editor of the Journal cannot imagine the mortification which we felt at this cruel thrust at the tender blossom of Ochre Point. If the editor of the Journal is not careful he will drive our nursing back to 498 Broadway New York; and, in such an event, what we seriously ask what, in the name of common humanity, would become of "the rude and uncivilized descendants of Roger Williams?"

The New York Tribune says that Commodore Decatur was an Irishman; this is a mistake—he was born either in this town or in Philadelphia; his father resided here many years.

The sublimity of wisdom is to do those things living which are to be desired when dying.

Ambition to "get up in the world," sinks many people below their natural level.

ECCLIASTICAL INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.—Under the above head, we clip from a foreign Journal, The Tablet, the following item dated Leeds, 1851, which, to say the least, evinces much zeal in the welfare of souls, and is very strong evidence of disinterested benevolence.

Mrs. Hookwood, having received from her husband facilities for hearing the female members of his flock, proposes to sit at her tribunal every Saturday immediately after Post-Communion.

Her "Yestery" being contiguous to that of her husband, care will be necessary to prevent the respective sexes from finding themselves in the wrong box. They will, therefore, observe the notices—"Ladies," "Gentlemen"—which will be legibly posted.

From Mrs. Hookwood's department all males will be rigidly and absolutely excluded, but the exclusion of females from the other side is liable to the following exception: that those whose cases exceed Mrs. Hookwood's power will receive from her a ticket marked "reserved case," upon the production of which they will be allowed to pass on to the side of the gentlemen.

Females will observe that a slight change will be necessary in the words of the Confiteor, in consequence of the sex of the Minister. They will say for "Tibi Pater and Te Pater," "Tibi Mater," &c.

N. B. Communications received by letter, and the conscience relieved by return of post. The letters should be marked, "Private, Female Department," and a blank (stamped) envelope enclosed.

Gov. Lawrence, in his Kossuth speech in the Senate, styles himself a "Senator from the State at large." What in the world will come next? Is this another New York feature? We presume that he will next call himself First Consul, or Dictator, or Protector, possibly.

The Rev. Dr. A. H. Vinton has been elected to fill the vacancy, occasioned by the translation of Dr. Whitehouse to the office of Assistant Bishop of Illinois. Dr. V. is now rector of St. Paul's Boston.

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS.—General Goddard, of Zanesville, Ohio, recently delivered an address at Cincinnati which closed with the following pertinent remarks:

"There are parts of Washington's Farewell Address bearing upon this subject which I would invite your attention. I ask you to re-peruse it. It is said of the faithful Muslim that he declines reading any books but the Koran, alleging that, if the recommended books contain anything contrary to the Koran, its perusal is unnecessary. I will not claim for the great Sage of our Country so blind an idolatry. But this I will say: When any new course of action is proposed to the American Government or American People, and doubts are entertained of its propriety, let them turn to the writings of Washington, and, if condemned there, avoid it as dangerous to the honor and permanent prosperity of our beloved Republic."

THE ICE IN THE SUSQUEHANNA.—The Mails, &c.—The ice in the Susquehanna river, at Havre de Grace, between this city and Philadelphia, having become so backed up as to form a compact mass, the passengers by the trains from Philadelphia, to this city, yesterday afternoon, were enabled to cross upon it, and thus come through with the regular mails from the East, reaching here in due season, the last one at 7 o'clock last evening. The Philadelphia train also left here yesterday morning at the usual hour, and the passengers and mails were safely passed over the river in the same manner. We learn from passengers who came through last evening, that the packed ice in the river at Havre de Grace presents a most curious and sublime appearance. It is piled up in immense masses to a great height, in many places towering as high as a two-story house. A sort of road is cut over it, the rough projections being levelled down, and where there are chasms or holes, boards are laid over them. The passengers thus cross safely and pleasantly.

The other Eastern mails, previously due, all reached the city yesterday.—Baltimore Sun.

Jenny Lind is still in the city, and will not leave in the Atlantic on the 28th inst., as has been intimated. She purposes remaining in the country until May next.—N. Y. Mirror.

Assault upon a Schoolmaster.—A teacher in one of the public schools, in Taunton, had occasion to punish one of his female pupils last week. The father on learning the fact, went to the school, collared the teacher and shook his fist in his face. The parent was complained of for assault, and the police court imposed a fine of $5 and cost, amounting in all to upwards of twelve dollars.

General Assembly.

JANUARY SESSION—AT PROVIDENCE.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 9.

SENATE.—The Senate met at 10 o'clock, His Excellency in the Chair.

After reading the Journal, the Lieut. Governor motioned personal explanation. He said he noticed in the report of yesterday's proceedings that he was made to say that the resolutions which he offered with respect to Kossuth, were to be his own individual sentiments only, and not those of the General Assembly. What he did say was that the remarks which he offered as his speech were to be so taken. For those he alone was responsible. But the resolutions, when passed, would be emphatically a declaration of the opinion of State, and the State would be responsible for them.

Mr. A. C. Greene said the papers did not pretend to give a verbatim report. His sole object in his remarks of yesterday, was to prevent the impression going out, which he thought the Lieut. Governor's remarks were intended to carry—that the people of the State did not concur in the opinions of the U. S. Senator. He made no objection to the resolutions.

After much talk about the time to which the Senate should adjourn, it adjourned to Saturday morning.

HOUSE.—Resolves from the Senate inviting Louis Kossuth to visit Rhode Island were read.

A long debate ensued; it was moved to amend, so as to invite Kossuth during the session, or at any other time which might better suit his convenience; this was voted down, and the Senate resolutions were passed.

Mr. Barstow presented petitions from 900 citizens of Coventry, 953 citizens of East Greenwich, 750 citizens of Warwick, and 448 citizens of Slaterville, for the enactment of the Maine Law.—Referred to the special committee on the subject.

Act in relation to Fisheries in Pawcatuck river, was offered by Mr. Dixon, and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Petitions of Olin Vickery, Harrison G. Brown, Margaret Barry, William R. Sweet, and others, for liberation, were referred.

Act regulating the custody of Insane Paupers, was read a first time.

In the case of the memorial of City Council of Providence for an act to prohibit the erection of buildings near the harbor line, the petitioners were required to give notice in the Post and Journal of the time on which the petitioners and remonstrants would be heard by the Judiciary Committee.

The House then adjourned to meet on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9, 1852.

A most interesting interview between Governor Kossuth and Henry Clay took place this day, at half past two o'clock, at the apartments of the latter. Kossuth was introduced by Senator Cass. Mr. Clay received him standing; and then, being seated on account of his feebleness, he delivered a most celebrated Magyar in a speech of half an hour in length, frankly expressing his opinion.

He deprecated the policy of intervention as the greatest calamity which could befall this country, and said that, as the possessors of the only existing republic, the example of man's capacity for self-government, it was the duty of the American people to encourage human progress and prosperity on this continent, which might be destroyed by foreign wars, involving in their fall all hopes of free institutions. These were, he said, the sentiments of a dying man who had struggled for freedom.

Kossuth replied. He did not combat Mr. Clay's positions, but confined himself to the prospects of Hungary and the situation of France, believing that events in the latter country would terminate in civil war, and, perhaps, in a general revolution.

At parting, Mr. Clay rose and bade Kossuth farewell for ever, wishing him a God speed for Hungarian independence as the reward of the noble efforts of her people. Kossuth responded with emotion, saying that he would pray God daily for Mr. Clay's restoration to health and usefulness. Both were deeply moved, and the scene was touching and solemn.

Mr. Clay will yet speak, or write, his opinion on this important subject. The effort of receiving Kossuth has exhausted him somewhat. In other respects, he has gained lately.

WASHINGTON, Friday, Jan. 9. The Grand Jury have found a true bill for libel against Captain Palma, in the matter of Madame Tichman.

The Capitol at Washington, which was endangered by the late fire in the Library of Congress, was built at a total cost of nearly two millions of dollars ($1,746,000). The north wing was commenced in 1793, and was finished in 1800. It cost nearly a half million. The south wing was commenced in 1803 and finished in 1808, and cost over $300,000. The centre was commenced in 1818 and was finished in 1827; it cost nearly one million of dollars. The entire building covers an acre and a half and 1820 feet of ground. The length of front is 353 1/2 feet; depth of wing, 121 1/2 feet; east projection and steps, depth 65; west projection and steps, depth 83; height of wings to top of balustrade, 80; height to top of centre dome, 145; Senate Chamber, length, 74 feet, height 42; Representatives' do, length 95 feet, height 60; height of central Rotunda, 96. The grounds of the Capitol embrace 22 1/2 acres, surrounded by a substantial iron railing, the length of which is four-fifths of a mile.

A WORD TO THE WISE.—No medicine is so cheap, so agreeable to take, so safe in all cases, and so certain to cure all diseases arising from impure state of the blood as Merrill's Compound Syrup of Wild Black Root. EAST BOSTON, Feb. 8, 1847.

Mr. William H. PEEK—Dear Sir: For several years past, my wife has been troubled with lock-jaw on the crown of the head, about six or seven inches in circumference. After repeated failures of other so-called remedies, and by the advice of a friend, she was induced to try your Hygienic and Lumbago pills. She has taken your pills, and she has been cured. She has used only two bottles, and that very regularly; had she used it often and more regularly, I am convinced that the growth of the hair would have been accelerated. I am, Sir,

Yours respectfully,
